The Cincinnati Commercial contains some facts of interest respecting the death of Bishop Mellvaine, and concerning his career :

"He died day before yesterday in Florence, Italy, where he was residing for the benefit of his health, that had long been failing. We have no particulars of his last moments. A cable dispatch from Florence to his son-in-law and daughter in New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. II. Hewson, conveyed the information that he was seriously ill; and a second dispatch, following in a couple of hours, told of his death, and mentioned that his daughter, whose home is in London, England, (she having married a gentleman of that city some three years since) was with him in his last moments. It is supposed that he died of apoplexy, as he had a tendency to that disease, and had lost two brothers by it. The dispatches were forwarded to the care of Mr. Theodore Cook, of this city, and to Rev. Mr. Yocum was given the duty of conveying the sad intelligence to the aged wife and the youngest daughter, in Clifton. At the Lenten service at St. Paul's Church, last evening, the announcement was made, and the prayers of the congregation for the afflicted

"Bishop Melivaine was a man of marked character and commanding position. His high position in this country was recognized by all, and in England, witien country Le frequently visited, he was always shown the greatest attention by the highest people of the land, both dience of the Queen in vain, even when other foreigners were denied, for her Majesty never forgot that he had always had a warm friend in her mother, the Duchess of Kent, even when she (the Queen) was but a child. In England an American Episcopal Bishop ranks socially with the not lity; and this gentleman was fortunate in being a personal favorite. It was this distinction that led to his appointment in the darkest days of our civil war, in the gloom of 1862-3, to the special mission to England. It was asked of him by President Lincoln, that he should use his influence with the clergy and nobility of that country to concliate the feeling there that, in light of the Mason-Slidell business, was not kindly toward us. That he succeeded in a great measure there is no doubt.

"An ex-Confederate gentleman, in conversation on this subject, recently, remarked that this was one of Mr. Seward's smartest pieces of diplomacy in getting Pesident Lincoln to send the Bishop on this mission, and that the Confederates ought to have sent Bishop Polk, their only man who had the intellect and social grace to cope with McIlvaine. Among the Bishop's warmest friends in England was the late distinguished banker Peabody, who named him as one of the Trustees of the Peadody Fund in this country. It was in 1863, we believe, that McIlvaine enjoyed the distinction of being the only American ever called to preach in St. Paul's. Within the last year he one day quietly walked into Westminster Abbey as a mere spectator at the consecration of a Bishop. The Archbishop of Canterbury observing him in the congregation, immediately sent for him, and insisted that he should take of them married, one to an Episcopal clergyman in Wisconsin, Rev. George Dubois. He lost two sons, and has one (Charles, a. clergyman,) living near Philadelphia. One of his sons, a lad, and his first born daughter died at Gambier. His son Joseph, who was in the Navy Department at Washington died three years ago.

Poison Again.-The Lancaster (Pa.) Ex-

a citizen of Kinzer's Station, this countywrites to us as follows: It is seldom the tranquility of our community is disturbed or its inhabitants startled at anything occurring within its limits; but we have to chronicle a case which from the respectability of the parties concerned, is likely to create a sensation, not only in the neighborhood in which it happened, but throughout the whole county. The facts as we hear them are as follows:

"There lived in Salisbury township, Lrneaster county, a man by the name of Henry Eaby. a unller by occupation, and a well-to-do and highly respected citizen. He was also a member of the Menuonite Church, of which sect there is a predominancy in this section of the county. About two years ago, his wife and two children were taken suddenly sick, about the same time and in the same manner. Medical aid was at once summoned, and the physicians pronounced the symptoms, in all three cases, those of poison. How the poison got into the system of the victims was a mystery yet to be solved. The physicians examined the premises, and gave as their opinion that it might have come from the well, which was adjacent to a stagnant pool of water, known as the dam. Mr. Eaby had the well thoroughly cleansed and the supposed evil removed .-The victims, however, all died soon after taking sick. But about two months ago, Mr. sudden sickness, and remarked while drinking | N E W COPARTNERSHIP. the last cup of coffee, at the table, that it tasted so bitter, and was different from the former cup he had drank, and inquired of the others if their's tasted so to them; they answered in the negative. The same physician that attended the others who had died was dispatched for, and upon his arrival asked him if he (Eaby) had any enemies, to which those who were around answered 'that he had not an enemy to their knowledge; that every one liked The physician said the man was poisoned. He lingered for a few days and died. It is now confidently believed that the whole family were intentionally poisoned, and thousand-tongue Rumor has been industriously at work for some time circulating stories of the most exciting character. But it is generally conceded in the neighborhood that circumstances point very strongly to the guilt of a certain party in the neighborhood. Although the name of the suspected party is in our posses-

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those fall-ing into insproper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power Nervous, Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

DR. JOHNSTON.

Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospi-tals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and else-where, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injurethemselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, ucntuing them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Pow-er, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Norvous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consump-

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im-

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the consequence and including in perhiclous path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before comtemplat-

MARRIAGE Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.
